An architectural jewel in the heart of Savannah's Historic District, 501 E Huntingdon Street is a masterful blend of 19th-century design and modern craftsmanship. With its mansard slate roof, ornate brackets, and twin front entries framed by gas lanterns, this home's façade is nothing short of breathtaking and commands attention from every angle.

The result of a multi-year collaboration between Sottile & Sottile Architects and JAK Homes, the residence spans over 4,000 square feet with original heart pine floors, soaring ceilings, and refined millwork throughout. The marble kitchen showcases custom cabinetry, high-end appliances, and a spacious pantry, while the home also includes an elevator for effortless living.

The primary suite encompasses the entire second floor, complete with a spa-like bath, clawfoot tub, and expansive dressing room. Multiple porches, lush outdoor spaces, and a rare two-car garage complete this one-of-a-kind Savannah landmark.
